

As I Came Out of Grundy Greet

AS I CAME OUT OF GRUNDY GREET

As I came out of Grundy Greet
Four cats were marching down the street.

One was long and grey and thin
With lots of whiskers on his chin,

And one was round and sleek and fat
(He must have been a butcher's cat).

One was dapper, slight, and frail,
With bells and tassels on his tail,

And one had starey yellow eyes
Almost as big as pumpkin pies.

These four came marching down the street
As I came out of Grundy Greet. L F J

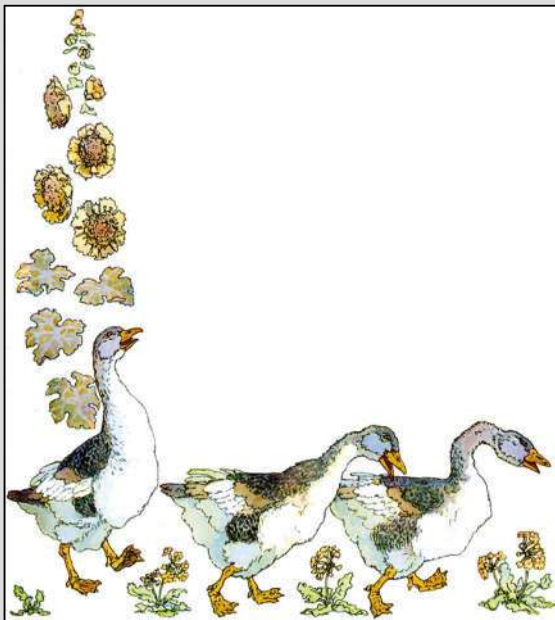

Why this book is good

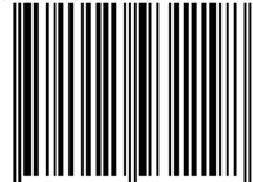

Listening to, echoing and reciting short rhymes is one of the joys of learning about the world for pre-school and early school child.

The gifted artists of the illustrations in this booklet have delighted children for generations and, it is hoped, will continue to do so well into the future.

Enjoy!
