A Collaborative Comprehension Worksheet for Reading Partner Buddies

The Fox and the Goat – A Let's do it again! scripted reading play by Ellie Hallett readingworks.com.au

On the facing page of your project book:

1. Research and then write from memory three facts about Aesop.
2. Describe in one or two sentences what is meant by 'a scripted story'?
3. What is a Jack Rabbit?
4. Memorise the spelling of the word groups, phrases and sentences below and then give each other a spelling and dictation quiz. Add up your marks.

1 point each goat boat coat moat	2 points each anyone someone no-one everyone	3 points each cunning running summing up sunning	4 points each You are definitely a sight for sore eyes! Ride that mountain bike with all your might . At last I see a light at the end of the tunnel. Her badge was as bright as a shining star.
smells bells tells wells	word worst world worm	claws paws laws flaws	Turn the wheel gently, my friend. The candle is burning brightly in the dark. Learn as much as you can about everything! Fern -leaf green is my favourite colour.

On the facing page of your project book, write answers to at least four of the following questions:

5. What does 'crafty' mean?
6. Write three other words that mean the same as 'crafty'.
7. Write a sentence with the word 'crafty' in it.
8. Write a sentence with the word 'peering' in it.
9. Write sentence with the word 'partake' in it.
10. Write a sentence with the word 'clamber' in it.
11. There is a mistake hidden in this script. What is it?

Mark each other's answers. Design and use your own marking system.

12. Collect as many different green paints and coloured pencils as you can.

Draw some balloons and colour each of them a different green.

Underneath each balloon, write a green name to suit – e.g. fern-leaf green.
